

File a Formal Complaint -

Shawn Roland reported 8 days ago (Wed, 28 Jun at 12:00 AM) via Portal Meta

The campaign website for Friends of Jinyoung Englund (<https://jinyoungenglund.com>) fails to identify the political party preference of the candidate.

RCW 42.17A.320 states that “[f]or partisan office, if a candidate has expressed a party or independent preference on the declaration of candidacy, that party or independent designation shall be clearly identified in electioneering communications, independent expenditures, or political advertising.”

The only attempt at identification to a political party is at the bottom of the page and included in the "Paid for by" disclosure requirement: "Paid for by Friends of Jinyoung Englund (GOP), P.O. Box 302 Woodinville, WA 98072". Notably, the "Paid for by" disclosure also improperly identifies the campaign as "Friends of Jinyoung Englund (GOP)" when the name filed on the C1 dated 4/11/2017 indicates the name as "Friends of Jinyoung Englund".

JOIN US FOR THE KIRKLAND 4TH OF JULY PARADE!

Protecting Washingtonians from a new state income tax, fully funding education, reducing traffic congestion, and grounding skyrocketing car tabs.

Our community is known for its diversity and innovative spirit. We're home to startups that are today's leading global companies, vibrant neighborhoods, award-winning wineries, and some of the best schools in the nation. Let's join forces to harness this spirit and stand up to issues that threaten our way of life. Together, we can, and will, accomplish far more for our community than if we remain divided.

Hello, I'm Jinyoung, and this is my husband, Geoff.

I'm the daughter of immigrants, a second generation military spouse, and entrepreneur. We are both proud alumni of the University of Washington who believe in paying forward the opportunities we have been afforded as Americans.

Growing up, Geoff and I were taught to work hard, think twice before complaining, and to make the most of what we have. As a result, we learned to be resilient, scrappy, and work collaboratively. If you're a parent, student, or a professional, these skills may be familiar to you as well.

The power of local government is the ability to solve real problems that directly affect our community.

As your state senator, I am committed to listening, focusing on issues that matter, and reaching across the aisle to design innovative solutions that directly impact our lives.

It's up to us to ensure Washington continues to be the best state to live, work, learn, and raise our families. I hope you'll join our efforts to shape the future of our great state. #NXTGENWA
