I am not a candidate for any office. It was under consideration at one point. I have not met with anyone or solicited support or have been active toward this in any way

As previously stated in my response I had not decided that I would run for Redmond City Council

The public articles in January 2017 stating that I was a candidate were not completely accurate concerning my intentions. I responded to unsolicited questions from local newspaper if I was considering running for council positions. I was considering but had not made a final decision.

I have not solicited campaign funds, endorsements, or support at any time

However I have since been asked to run and plan to file this Friday

Please let me know what I need to provide to you to clear this allegation from Sheri Nichols with the PDC

Thank you

Sincerely

Steve Fields
