

by Mwiggins37 on Fri, 12 Feb at 3:19 PM via Portal

File a Formal Complaint - Margaret R. Wiggins

I saw the full page ad in the Seattle Times, pg A8, Feb 11, 2016, that mentions a 23% failure-to-graduate rate of high school students. The name The Greater Good Campaign was named at the bottom along with a facebook page link /GreaterGoodCampaign... and when I went to the facebook page the call for an income tax was up-front called for. There may be some effort to blame the comments on people posting... but it is such a thin disguise for a political ad.

I really want to know who is funding the newspaper ad and who is manning the facebook page. If more money had been able to make a difference in the quality of education for our children, it would have done it by now, this is all about the income tax. And VERY political.