On 8/22/18, I received a phone call from "Crossings Research" claiming to be polling. Upon answering questions about this year's election for State Senate, I found that I was actually being campaigned by Tim Sheldon. His henchmen asked loaded questions about Irene Bowling. They made false claims that Ms. Bowling is supported by 'Seattle Democrats' (a favorite boogeyman of Mr. Sheldon). They also falsely claimed Ms. Bowling has "...pledged to vote the straight party line of the Seattle City Counsel." This is one of many flat out lies contained in this masquerading phone call.

What impact does the alleged violation(s) have on the public?

Spreads lies & mis-information about opposing candidate, preventing fair & free election.
