Dear Tabitha –

I am so sorry. I received this email when I was out of town and erroneously read the reply date as 2/28.

There were a number of personal and technical issues which contributed to the late reporting for last year. Nonetheless, the reporting was late and I take full personal responsibility for that. I have endeavored to make things right and have brought all reporting up to current status. In addition, measures have been put in place to ensure that this situation does not recur.

As you no doubt know, we are a very small committee. I appreciate the help of the PDC staff in getting things set up so that I could complete the reporting after my old computer died last year. We are doing everything we can to ensure prompt and correct compliance now and in the future.

Please advise what further steps are required.

Best,
Nancy Monacelli for
