Please accept this as the response of Working Families to PDC Case Number 26008 and 26009.

Allegation #1: While the complaints lack specific reference, Working Families denies that any of its advertising fails to adhere to the requirements of RCW 42.17A.335.

Allegation #2: All materials produced by Working Families include Sponsor ID as required by RCW 42.17A.320. Indeed, in answer to both complaints, the complete Working Families disclaimer is presented several times in multiple formats.

Thank you for the opportunity to respond. Working Families constantly strives to fully disclose its activities to ensure that every Washington citizen has a clear understanding as to what is at stake in the upcoming General Election.
