Response:

As the Treasurer for Christy Watts' campaign I take full responsibility for the issue in question. Except for this one C4 reporting all other reporting of C3's & C4's has been timely and accurate.

For the C4 reporting in question I had been in and out of the hospital and in an attempt to get the reporting done on time I talked to an agent at the PDC who told me I could submit the C4 report in writing. He knew I did not have access to a computer. The agent even went so far as to insure that my reporting was properly done.

The campaign is over. I have been surprised at the amount of time opponents of Christy's have spent trying to bring her down. These people should have spent their time focusing on the issues at hand and not pettiness. Christy ran an honest, fair, hard-working campaign without trying to publicly damage her opponent's reputation.

I hope this issue will be put to rest.
